

DefSec Global Limited

DefSec Global Limited, is owned and operated by Vic Donaldson, who established the company in 2014, this followed a military career and many years working internationally, in various security sectors, which led into Police contracts and then Forensics.

DefSec Global have become a well-known and internationally respected supplier of Forensic laboratory equipment, Crime Scene Investigation Light products, and Forensic consumables. We are a non-manufacturing Company, and we provide our suppliers with an expertise in the UK and Export Sales and Marketing, and being result orientated, has proved to be extraordinarily successful. For our customers we provide an end-to-end solution, sourcing the right product for their often complex applications, with ongoing technical support and a spare parts service.

We provide worldwide, installation, in-depth product operation and maintenance training, fingerprint process methodology. We have strived to educate our customers the importance of the link between Forensics and Security and it has proven factual. We are proud to have supported Caribbean Police based Forces, by providing Child Rape & Assault Evidence Procedure and Process training, this has ensured an increase in convictions.

We are partnered with our UK based supplier, being Fumecare Limited, who supply Forensic Evidence Cabinets, Fuming Chambers, Fume Cupboards, Dye Staining Benches, Downflow Work Benches, and many other products. We are delighted to announce that in June 2019 we signed an agreement and became partnered with CopperTree Forensics Ltd in the UK, who have an excellent reputation in product quality, service and technology, far in advance of other products available in the sector of Crime Scene Investigation Light Sources. These include both high quality LED and Laser lights sources, for Crime Scene Investigation, and for the analysis of deep cleaning process, effectiveness.

Our sales results are not gained at a distance, we visit and work with our customers to ensure we solve their requirements. We are cost and value conscious and do not allow customers to over-engineer the products, simply the right tools for the job. We work in several markets, which are well known to us. These include China, Asia Pacific, Iraq, Afghanistan, Middle East, Sudan, Nigeria, Thailand, and in countries that most companies would like to gain business from, but are unwilling to visit or work in. We accept the challenge of selling in the difficult countries and operate where there is a need for the product. Export is at the forefront of our business, and we strive to ensure our Principals gain new markets, customers and contracts. With over 45 years' experience in working in the Security and Forensics with Police, Military, Forensic Laboratories and Security Agencies, our customers are based in over 128 countries where Vic Donaldson has lived and worked in many. Vic is SIA licensed.
