Re Coppertree Forensics
&
Forensic Investigation Torches -
C-Diff Cleaning in a Health Care Setting

The CopperTree Forensics 'Forensic Investigation Torch' kit is an essential part of our specialist cleaning equipment, used by our team to identify and remove body fluids, human and animal tissue, potentially infectious and infectious material, as well as detect and remove trace amounts of chemicals and our own cleaning products on final inspection of 'the works area'; enabling us to clean to forensic standards, and together with ATP testing, prove it too!

In day to day specialist cleaning, in healthcare and other settings, we use the blue F.I.T. to identify material not visible under normal lighting conditions, and on each and every occasion, to check our own standards prior to the conclusion of works, and during the decontamination process for ourselves and our equipment.

The CopperTree Forensics F.I.T. kit is an essential part of the team.
